Description

Alpha Recherche Clinique is a private clinical research company in the Quebec City region, founded by nurses in 2008. We specialize in Phase II to IV clinical trials. We work closely with several physician-scientists who practice at the same facilities as our sites (3). We are recognized by our partners as sites of excellence and as top recruiters in Canada for certain studies. We enjoy exceeding expectations and taking on new challenges. Providing high-quality healthcare to our patients is essential. We strive to ensure our documentation is clear and precise in order to comply with Good Clinical Practice (GCP) standards.
